

Personal Preparedness for Staff: What Do Staff Need to Be Prepared?

Personal and Family Preparedness is the first and most important step in order to respond to a disaster. As a nonprofit, faith based organization or small business, there is plenty to be done to support the preparedness of our staff.

This session will give your organization resources and tools for increasing individual and family preparedness for your staff, including some fun games that you can include in staff meetings to help your organization demonstrate it's culture of preparedness.
